Rich liberals

"A nonprofit corporation, the Public Broadcasting Service, fueled by billions of taxpayer dollars, has been promoting Democratic Party agendas for 33 years. A minor scandal even erupted last year when it was revealed that tax-exempt and tax-supported public television stations were selling their subscriber lists to Democratic Party fund-raising efforts.

"Why Democrats? It's the politics, stupid!

"For 33 years, public television stations have been (illegally) pushing a Democratic perspective, and consequently attracting an overwhelmingly Democratic support base. . . .

"Why isn't this abuse the target of a RICO suit? Public television star Bill Moyers, who has made a personal fortune disseminating anti-Republican propaganda on taxpayer-financed public television stations, is also the head of the 'philanthropic' Florence and John Schumann Foundation, which recently gave $5.5 million

Bill Moyers

— a king's ransom — to a liberal political magazine, 'The American Prospect.' This allowed what had been a typically under-financed and politically irrelevant opinion journal to publish twice-monthly and become a force within the Democratic Party.

"Is this illegal? It certainly violates the spirit of the tax laws, but the Clinton IRS has so far failed to notice."
