

own interest in maintaining and strengthening the Commonwealth link. Some continuance of the Colonial Service is essential for the successful development of the new Dominions. Even those independent Commonwealth countries in which the administrative structure is by non-western standards reasonably strong—India or Pakistan—are short of technicians of all kinds, of specialists in medicine and education, in the veterinary that the upper reaches of every local vice are staffed by British officers, and native official feels that all avenues of motion are cut off. Moreover, nations will not be able to afford to for the quality of official they really need and local Finance Ministers may be compelled to rid themselves of the more highly paid officials at whatever risk to efficiency.

To be concluded.

"THE SEX PROFITEER"

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES

Sir,—Many of your readers will have welcomed the views expressed in a sermon delivered by the Rev. Joseph Christie, S.J., in Westminster Cathedral and reported in your columns last Monday, on the objectionable handling of the Kinsey Report by some sections of the Press. I write as chairman of the Church of England Youth Council to support the protest made by Father Christie and to plead with him for a stronger resistance against the immense amount of harm which is being done—and not least to the younger generation—by newspapers and other publications which habitually indulge in cheap pornography. Those who devote themselves to the welfare of young people and who support organizations to promote their healthy development must surely be active in attempting to suppress those influences which can vitiate so much of the good they are trying to do.

I am, Sir, yours faithfully,
LAUNCELOT PORTSMOUTH.
Innerhadden Cottage, Kinloch Rannoch, by Pitlochry, Sept. 4.

JOINT CONSULTATION IN INDUSTRY

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES

Sir,—It seems unfortunate that your Labour Correspondent, in his endeavour to point to the lack of progress towards what is loosely termed and ill-defined as "industrial democracy," finds it necessary to attack the efforts of Britain in the field of joint consultation. It is surely not surprising that machinery which is openly consultative and advisory in character is not developing into something for which it was never intended. There is an

FESTIVAL IN BUCHAREST

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES

Sir,—May one invite Mr. Ron Montague to draw the attention of the members of the Little Ilford Forum Fellowship to the lack of control over the Orthodox Church asserted by the Communist Government of Rumania in its Decree of February 5, 1949?

defined the power of that Government as follows:—(1) To supervise and control all religious groups and their branches. (2) To supervise and control special religious education and training personnel for all religious groups. (3) To approve the establishment of new religious communities, parishes, and religious administrative units. (4) To control and supervise religious art. (5) To supervise and control all property and funds of religious groups. (6) To co-ordinate the work in conjunction with local representatives, of supervising relations and information between groups within the country and abroad."

Mr. Montague should also take advantage of the opportunity to study the history of the Rumanian Church whereby the Catholic Church in Rumania, both of the Latin and of the Greek Rite, has been physically exterminated. It is a history easy to reconcile with the sentimentality which he quotes from Conseiller-Metro G. H. Bejgu.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
MICHAEL DERR
128, Sloane Street, S.W.1.

SHARING THE RATIO BURDEN

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES

Sir,—May I point out that your Labour Correspondent's otherwise comprehensive article in your issue of August 31 contains the statement that the Exchequer Equalization does not apply to the County of London where the Metropolitan Boroughs, with a notable value a head is below the

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

...the ...

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the situation.

[illegible]

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are illiterate has increased by 100 million. The number of illiterate people in the world is now 1 billion, and the number of illiterate people in the United States is 100 million. The number of illiterate people in the United States is 100 million, and the number of illiterate people in the United States is 100 million.

1945

SECRET

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]