THE SOLUTION: WHY AMERICA REELS FROM CRISIS TO CRISIS

Shocked by Recession, Revolutionary Violence, The Farm Emergency, Unpayable National Debt, Confiscatory Taxation, Perpetual War for Perpetual Peace, A Crisis in Education, Land Control Laws and Other Symptoms of a Disintegrating Republic?

You don't have to take it anymore!

Participate in the task of generating public debate on facts behind the 'New World Order'.

Motivate county and state elected officials to challenge those who would overthrow the Constitution of the United States and erect a new feudalism on the ruins of the Republic.

Objective of 'New World Order' revolutionaries is to emasculate sovereign states, merge nations under universal government, centralize economic power and control the world's people, land and resources.

Prerequisite for survival in a hostile economic and political environment: Reject 'spectatorship' for 'participation' in the struggle to halt and reverse the march toward a socialist 'animal farm'.

Needed is the commitment of men and women to apply, at county and state levels of government, successful procedures to restore interest-free money, repudiate unpayable national debt, eliminate federal deficits and reestablish freedoms of person and property guaranteed to you by the Constitution.

Make a place for you and your children in tomorrow's world.

Committee to Restore the Constitution presents an extensive body of evidence confirming the criminal instincts of the men behind the 'New World Order'.

Committee to Restore the Constitution offers a solution to the problem.

You can, and should be, a part of this viable mission.

THE PROBLEM

MATTOID REVOLUTIONARIES at the highest levels of finance and government have created a climate of economic, social and political crisis to condition Americans for the 'New World Order'.

THE TECHNIQUE is as old as politics. It is the Hegelian principle of bringing about change in civilization through a three step process: Thesis, Antithesis and Synthesis.

THE FIRST STEP (Thesis) is to create a problem.

THE SECOND STEP (Antithesis) is to generate opposition to the problem (fear, panic, hysteria).

THE THIRD STEP (Synthesis) is to offer a solution to the problem created in step one — change which would have been impossible to impose on the people without the psychological conditioning achieved in stages one and two.

Applying the Hegelian principle, and irresistible economic influence, concealed mattoids seek to dismantle social and political structures by which free men govern themselves, ancient landmarks erected at great cost in blood and treasure, and establish a 'New World Order' on the ruins of the Republic.

THE SAFETY OF THE STATE BEGINS WITH YOU*

Harnessing powers of county and state governments to individual effort is the solution to economic exploitation.

Prerequisite to success is rejection of "spectatorship" for "participation" in the struggle to reverse the march toward a socialist America.

Grassroots leadership can reestablish interest-free money and restore control of government to the people, where it properly belongs.

Beginning in 1965, members and associates, Committee to Restore the Constitution, persuaded numbers of county commissioners and state lawmakers to challenge the Federal Reserve System, power base of the mattoid elite who seek to overthrow the Constitution and erect a socialist state on the ruins of the Republic.

Deepening national emergency demands that you use every means to attract to this campaign conscientious men and women who will help defend your money and property. Only full commitment of energy and resources to the terrible problems confronting Americans will divert the threat of economic, social and political collapse.

Groups of informed and motivated patriots, with a plan of action, have begun the task of restoring freedoms of person and property guaranteed to the people by the Constitution.

You, too, can reach out to others and improve your chances of survival in the days of crisis which lie ahead.

Your plan of action is anchored on the fact that the Constitution of the United States created a new political power in the world: The sovereign individual.

Techniques and procedures for applying individual political power are set out in the following paragraphs.

NATURE OF THE PROBLEM

The confidence voiced by some that the Congress of the United States, and/or Governor of the State, will resolve the national emergency is not shared by Committee to Restore the Constitution.

The Congress is incapable of taking corrective action to reverse the mindless march toward dictatorship. They have, over a period of years, transferred their legislative powers to the Executive branch, and to private interests such as the Federal Reserve System and agents of Regional Government. Such authority as may be retained by the Congress include the power to follow orders of the international banking cartel, the power to tax the American people so as to reliably support world government, and the power to rescind unconstitutional statutes. The fact that the Congress shows no interest in rescinding their unconstitutional actions of the past is evidence that they cannot or will not act to preserve the safety of the State now.

The governor of a State also lacks the power to deal effectively with usurpation of constitutional powers. A Governor can only rescind executive orders – his own or those of a predecessor. He can no more unmake a legislative act than he can make one. Only the State legislature can make a law – or unmake an improper one.

AUTHORITY OF STATE GOVERNMENT

Therefore, the objective of Committee to Restore the Constitution is to inspire public demand for corrective action by the respective State legislatures. The State legislature is obligated to challenge any threat to constitutional law. Acting in its highest sovereign capacity the State can investigate acts by Federal agents which violate the prohibitions of the United States Constitution, or which seek to change the form of government established by the articles of the Constitution, or which abrogate the freedoms of person and property guaranteed to the people by the Constitution.

The State legislature, upon finding evidence of illegal acts by Federal agents,

LAW OF PRINCIPAL...

UNAUTHORIZED ACTS BY AN AGENT ARE NOT BINDING ON THE PRINCIPAL

"Law of Principal" in central to resolving the constitutional crisis.

The original thirteen Nations, recognized as such by the Treaty of Peace which concluded the Revolutionary war, created the Federal government.

Following the War for Independence, the thirteen nation-states organized themselves as the United States under a mutual compact, the Constitution of the United States.

Every succeeding State entered the Union of States, "...upon an equal footing with the original States in all respects whatsoever," (Chapter XXXVI, 13 United Statutes at Large, 1864).

The constitutional contract established, in the first three Articles, three branches of government: Legislative, Executive and Judicial. The People, through their State deputies, delegated to these three agencies certain limited powers, retaining unto themselves all powers not so delegated.

Each sovereign State, as a Principal under the constitutional compact, is supreme over its Federal agencies. The State is empowered to correct acts by its Federal agents which it deems violate delegated powers enumerated in the Articles of the constitution.

Each sovereign State has the authority and the responsibility to enforce provisions of the Constitution within its borders, and to provide criminal sanctions for violators.

The People, from whom flow all political powers, are responsible for instructing their State senators and representatives to challenge unconstitutional acts by Federal agents, as they are required to do by oath of office.

Each citizen is charged with the mission of defending and preserving freedoms of person and property guaranteed to the people by the Constitution of the United States.

may then pass corrective State statutes to enforce provisions of the Constitution within the borders of the State.

LAW OF PRINCIPAL

The rule is the law of principal: Only the Principal in a contract can correct violations of that contract by its agent. The State, having created the Federal government by the first three articles of the Constitution (a contract), is legally bound to challenge ultra vires acts by its agents. The State must do this by a positive act – by investigation of violations, and subsequent passage of a State statute which will enforce the articles of the U.S. Constitution within the borders of the State.

Further, the State is required to protect rights of its citizens by passage of laws which provide criminal sanctions for violators of its legislative acts.

CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY

Committee to Restore the Constitution has presented an extensive body of evidence illustrating the criminal nature of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal regional concept, land control laws and other aspects of world government.

Committee to Restore the Constitution has set out in great detail the constitutional basis for corrective action by the respective state legislatures.

Committee to Restore the Constitution has prepared model resolutions and proposed statutes in support of corrective action by the respective State legislatures.

Committee to Restore the Constitution has structured an active and expanding national program of public education and legislative action to recruit conscientious citizens, and to polarize divergent effort in a central thrust to expose and neutralize usurpers of constitutional authority.

Needed is the commitment of local leadership to apply successful procedures and techniques at community, county and state levels of government.

SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM

When it is found that Federal agents have exceeded delegated powers enumerated in the articles of the Constitution, the people, from whom flow all political powers, must bring their authority to bear at the point of local political decision to support State remedy.

County government, building block of the American political system, is the appropriate arena for initiating such individual action.

The sheriff, county judges and county commissioners are local chieftains in the proper function of county government. These officers present the greatest challenge to the misuse of authority by a central government. There are over three thousand county governments in the United States, each a self-contained, lawful authority, charged with doing whatever is necessary to apprehend, try and punish criminals.

Thrust of programs originated by the Committee to Restore the Constitution and affiliated county chapters is motivation of county officials to restore and defend historical jurisdictions of county government; preserve life, liberty and property of county residents, and initiate demand for state legislative action which will eliminate threats to freedom of person and property posed by unlawful edicts of a central government.

Most important of these programs is county/state operations to repeal the Federal Reserve Act of 23 December 1913.

PROTECT YOUR RIGHTS

Organizing a county chapter or local study group can be a most rewarding exercise in leadership. Sharing knowledge and techniques for successfully challenging confiscatory stratagems of the Federal Reserve System will inspire your friends and neighbors to help defend your own liberty and property.

Many will be willing to join you to receive the benefits but, at least in the beginning, only a few will be available to do the work. So, before anything else, find at least two others who are as dedicated as you and who will share the responsibility of leadership.

reverse the mindless march toward dictatorship.

We have clearly lost control of our government. The solution to economic chaos, social rebellion, and political revolution is planned action at the county level of government to force the respective state legislatures to protect the lives and property of the people.

Political theorizing and personal knowledge of the conspiracy must be translated into practical plans and implemented at a level of government which the individual can effectively influence. American citizens, if they are to escape the socialist society planned for them, must bring their authority to bear at the point of jurisdictional decision: County and State government.

No amount of agonizing or protest to a distant congressman will change the design of the mattoids who seek to overthrow the Constitution and reduce Americans to the status of economic serfs on the land which once was theirs. Only the individual can demand that his County official act to defend and preserve Life, Liberty and Property. He must do this by a positive act, by challenging "the secret government of monetary power" at its weakest point – the County.

Although all sovereignty originates from the State, the states delegated a few of their powers to their common agents in Washington. However, the vast governmental powers that touch our lives every day are placed in the hands of County Government, that are closest to the people.

One historian who has commented on the point is R.J. Rushdoony, whose book, The Nature of the American System, first published in 1965, has an analysis of the County in early American history. Important as the States are, they are not the basic unit of the American system. The basic unit is clearly and without question the COUNTY, said Rushdoony.

Significantly, one of the first steps toward independence was taken by Mecklenburg County, North Carolina, May 31, 1775, in order to prevent a legal vacuum...

First, the PROPERTY TAX remained in the hands of the county, which early established its jurisdiction. The people of an area thus controlled their tax assessor and their county supervisors, so that the taxing power was not beyond their jurisdiction. When the power to tax leaves the county, tyranny will then begin in the United States. Socialism or communism will be only a step away. The people of a county will be helpless as their property is taxed to the point of expropriation.

Second, CRIMINAL LAW was and is county law in essence. That was an important safeguard against tyranny and

SPECTATORSHIP VS PARTICIPATION*

The political reality of today is the fact that after fifty years of "fighting communism" the great array of anticommunists have failed to deter the rising tide of revolution. Patriotic organizations still have no real strategy for effective action because of the failure to recognize the obvious; The real enemy of the people lurks in New York and Washington, D.C.

Conservative leaders must come to realize that a mattoid "elite" has seized control of policy-making and conflict management in the United States. International financiers and industrialists, in secret alliance with revolutionary forces, are merging American and Soviet societies under a master plan of infiltration, subversion and rebellion.

General reaction of the muzzled majority to increasing exploitation and oppression has been a defense of the status quo. Yet, it must be clear that a political system perpetually on the defensive is doomed to ultimate defeat. Somewhere, somehow, we must counterattack!

The problem might be considered as basically one of inducing movement and action. Relatively few people in America are pro-communist, or even socialists. Still, revolutionaries in government retain an iron grip on American domestic and foreign policy, manipulating economic, social and political disciplines to expand their dream of world empire at the expense of the Republic.

Meanwhile, the vast majority of the people, both captives and targets, remain relatively passive.

This passivity is not accidental. World government conflict managers have long realized the significance of the vast gulf between spectators and participants. Their whole strategy is geared to maximize the victim's spectatorship and minimize his participation in the struggle.

That principle was shown in South Vietnam. It is estimated that out of every hundred people in rural areas, twenty were actively aiding the Communist Viet Cong, forty were passively anti-communist, and forty were neutral. That active twenty was enough to turn the county into a major battlefield leading to ultimate defeat of American forces – aided and abetted, of course, by concealed conflict managers in New York and Washington.

Conservative attempts to influence the spectator-participant ratio have been mainly confined to vague educational programs, insipid protest and generalized talk – none of which has been able to inspire much favorable movement. Indeed, many conservative organizations obviously regard the national crisis as a popularity contest, not a war for survival.

In contrast, fear has been the mattoid's chief weapon; economic, political and social coercion, for maximizing passivity and spectatorship. Effective though it is, oppression is a two-edged weapon. Its application generates potential reaction. These suppressed reactions can explode with sudden violence. Channeling anger and frustration into constructive action is the task of knowledgeable Americans everywhere. The individual can do nothing to protect himself and his family until he is armed with knowledge and a plan of action.

Defeat of the mattoids now leading America into the twilight zone of national disaster demands intelligent acceptance of the facts behind the crisis. And, it requires a courageous marshalling of resources, and the commitment of motivated citizens who will take whatever action is necessary to against the political use of criminal law. Law enforcement officers, including judges, were and are officers of the county, in the main, or of its constituent units. As T. Robert Ingram has pointed out, not too many years ago executions were also held at the county seat. Police power and criminal law are thus matters of local jurisdiction in the American system.

The third, CIVIL LAW, is also county law to a great degree, enforced by local courts and by locally elected officials. The American citizen is thus for the most part under county government. His basic instruments of civil government are local, residing in the county, and the county is his historic line of defense against the encroachments, of state and federal governments. In early America, town and county elections were properly regarded as more important than state and federal elections, and property qualifications were strict on the local level.

AMERICANS ARE AN ENDANGERED SPECIES*

"If every person has the right to defend – even by force – his person, his liberty, and his property, then it follows that a group of men have the right to organize and support a common force to protect these rights constantly."

THE LAW, by Frederic Bastiat,
Paris, 1850

American citizens have failed to understand, or even recognize the fact, that gross changes have been gradually and illicitly brought about in the political and sociological climate of this land.

It is evident, however, that a subtle and perilous change has occurred in America. Within the past two or three generations the civilization of our forefathers has come under sophisticated assault. The structures of freedom erected at such great cost in blood, sweat and treasure are crumbling. Our God is blasphemed, our lineage reviled, and our Constitution dismantled.

Our destiny has turned to dust.

Americans have been reduced to economic serfs in the land that once was theirs. A secret government of monetary power, employing perverted mass media and the coercive authority of a captured Bureaucratic Civil Service, is forcing us into a "New World Order" of "Liberty, Fraternity, Equality."

To liquidate this threat to life and property Americans must first accept the fact that the frame of reference upon which they erroneously rely to preserve the Republic no longer exists.

Gone is the Constitution, and its protective covenants. Gone are the courts, and their shield to personal freedom. Gone is representative government, and the sovereignty of the individual. Gone is the U.S. dollar, and its authority in the market place. All have been surreptitiously phased out of the society to usher in a totalitarian, one world autocracy of the financial "elite."

There is, however, a practical and attainable solution to the state of national emergency. Conscientious men and women can successfully energize State power to expose the covert transfer of State and Federal sovereignty to private interests.

The law involved in the fundamental law of principal. Actions of an agent are not binding upon the principal if those actions are not authorized by the principal. Constitutionally, departments of government are agents of the State ... which created them by constitutional compact.

The mission of informed citizens, therefore, is to activate the sovereign powers of the State to expose and neutralize interlocking subversion in government departments and restore control of government to the people.

America need not become a land of "yesterday's people." All it takes to regain the freedoms lost is the courage to face today's political reality, and to implement successful techniques and procedures to reverse the mindless march toward the new feudalism.

WHY AMERICA IS BANKRUPT

CENTRAL ISSUE OF TODAY'S ECONOMIC CRISIS IS MONEY, AND THOSE WHO CONTROL IT.*

In 1913 the money aristocracy effected a major advance toward their long-range goal of world dominion. They duped the United States Congress into adopting the Federal Reserve Act. This coup resulted in the transfer of the power to coin and regulate U.S. money from the Congress to their private banking combine, the Federal Reserve System.

Since passage of the Federal Reserve Act, the American destiny and the personal life of every citizen has been controlled by a financial elite whose sick-brained policies have spawned depression, war and revolution.

The existence of an "Invisible Government of Monetary Power" was dramatically confirmed in 1933 by the late Louis T. McFadden, Chairman, Banking and Currency Committee, United States Congress, who said:

Every effort has been made by the Fed to conceal its powers but the truth is – the Fed has usurped the government. It controls everything here (in Congress) and it controls all our foreign relations. It makes and breaks governments at will.

Representative John R. Rarick, denouncing President Nixon's plan for deficit spending ("Deficit Financing," Congressional Record, February 1, 1971) also revealed the dominant position held by the Federal Reserve System over the American economy.

"He," (President Nixon) said Mr. Rarick, "has asked the independent Federal Reserve System to come up with enough new money to reach a projected increase in the GNP by $88 billion in order to achieve his 'objective of prosperity without inflation.'"

"The Federal Reserve," Congressman Rarick pointed out, "is not an agency of Government. It is a private banking monopoly."

"As I have said many times before," Rarick declared, "the policies of the monarch are always those of his creditors."

Gentlemen, the safety of the State and the peace and security of Wisconsin citizens now urgently require an investigation of the vast powers claimed by the Federal Reserve System.

The first consideration should be a public examination of the authority which the Federal Reserve System says established its legal status as a Government agency. Such authority is quoted in a statement submitted to Congressman Wright Patman, House Banking and Currency Committee, by the Board of Governors, Federal Reserve System and Federal Reserve Banks, dated April 14, 1952.

"The 12 Federal Reserve Banks," said the Federal Reserve Board, "are corporations set up by Federal law to operate for public purposes under Government supervision."

The Board further advised Mr. Patman that, "The Board of Governors was created by Congress and is a part to the Government of the United States. Its members," they said assuringly, "are appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and it (the Fed) has been held by the Attorney General to be a Government establishment (30 Op. Atty. Gen., 308, 1914)."

Retorting to these impressive claims to "legality" and "public service" Congressman Patman stated:

"There is no free market that can cope with a national debt of $272 billion (1952), with $85 billion of it to be refunded within one year. Free market," he said, "means private manipulation of (private) credit."

Private manipulation of PUBLIC credit is, of course, the purpose and objective of the Federal Reserve System. This international banking cartel, as will be shown, manages the credit of the United States for the profit and advantage of its foreign and domestic members. In so doing the Federal Reserve exploits the entire producing strata of the American society for the gain of a select, non-producing few.

"The Federal Reserve Board, to my mind," continued Mr. Patman, "is guilty of the grossest kind of misconduct in failing to support the Government of the United States at a time of its greatest economic peril in Government securities."

Congressman Patman then revealed the contradiction in the spurious Federal Reserve claim of "Government agency" status and explained how the Fed generates illegitimate profits for its members.

"The Open Market Committee of the Federal Reserve System," he said, "is composed of the 7 member of the board of Governors and 5 members who are presidents of the Federal Reserve banks and who are selected by private commercial banking interests. The Open Market Committee has the power to obtain, and does obtain, the printed money of the United States – Federal Reserve Notes – (free) from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and exchanges these printed notes, which of course are not interest bearing, for United States Government obligations that are interest bearing. After making the exchange," Patman explained, "the interest bearing obligations are retained by the 12 Federal Reserve banks and the interest collected annually on these Government obligations goes into the funds of the 12 Federal Reserve banks."

Exploding the myth that the Federal Reserve System is an instrumentality of the Federal Government Mr. Patman declared:

"These funds (interest from Government obligation) are expended by the (Federal Reserve) system without an adequate accounting to the Congress. In fact there has never been an independent audit of either the 12 banks or the Federal Reserve Board that has been filed with the Congress where a Member (of Congress) would have an opportunity to inspect it. The General Accounting Office," he stated, "does not have jurisdiction over the Federal Reserve. For 40 years (1952) the system, while freely using the money (credit) of the Government, has not made a proper accounting."

Governor W.P.G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, in testimony before Congress in 1921, admitted that the Fed is a private banking monopoly.

"The Federal Reserve Bank is an institution owned by the stock holding member banks," he said. "The Government has not a dollar's worth of stock in it."

The Government does, however, give the Federal Reserve System free use of its billions of dollars of credit. This gives the Federal Reserve the characteristic of a central bank; the power to issue currency on the Government's credit.

Americans do not have Federal Government notes or gold certificates as currency. We have Federal Reserve Bank notes, fiat money issued by private banks. Every dollar the Federal Reserve System prints is a dollar in their pocket.

The compatible meshing of the Federal Reserve System with a network of international banking was explained by Mr. W. Randolph Burgess of the New York Federal Reserve Bank in an address before the Academy of Political Science in 1930.

"In its major principles of operation the Federal Reserve System is no different," he told Congress, "from other banks of issue, such as the Bank of England, the Bank of France, or the Reichsbank."

It is obvious that when control of money is transferred from the People to private banking centers, as is the case in Europe and America, the sovereignty of the People is surrendered, too. Control of wealth confers upon those who control it the final decision in the domestic and international affairs of nations. When the financial aristocracy usurp the "coin of the realm," the People are disfranchised and real political authority passes into the hands of an "Invisible Government of Monetary Power."

“Worsening recession demands specific and immediate action to escape impending economic collapse – with resulting ruin of American citizens”, warns Archibald Roberts in a press release announcing publication of his new book, America in Crisis Survival Portfolio.

Colonel Roberts, Director, Committee to Restore the Constitution, a national organization, is the author of, The Most Secret Science, Victory Denied, The Anatomy of a Revolution, Peace by the Wonderful People Who Bought You Korea and Viet Nam, The Republic: Decline and Future Promise, The Crisis of Federal Regionalism: A Solution, Emerging Struggle for State Sovereignty, Defend Your Money and Property, and hundreds of articles on The New World Order and its U.S. manifestations: Federal Reserve System, United Nations Organization and Federal Regionalism.

Roberts asserts that, America in Crisis Survival Portfolio reveals successful procedures the individual can use to harness powers of county and state governments to his survival in a hostile economic and political environment.

Extensively documented and incorporating many model legal forms for use by individuals in their struggle to defend their family, their money and their property, the collection presents step-by-step actions to restore interest-free money, repudiate unpayable national debt, eliminate federal deficits and reestablish freedoms of person and property guaranteed to the people by the Constitution of the United States.

“The State, a principal under the constitutional contract”, said the author, “has the power and responsibility to correct violations of the Constitution by Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches of government. Actions by any agent found to be in violation of the Constitution, therefore void, may subject the agent to appropriate legislative and judicial action by the State”.

Roberts noted that the following States, in consonance with the concept of ‘Principal vs. Agent’, have introduced and/or adopted legislation calling upon the President and Congress to repeal the Federal Reserve Act:

Arizona, Washington, Arkansas, Idaho, Indiana, Alabama & Texas

The following States, he said, have held hearings to consider adoption of legislation calling for repeal of the Federal Reserve Act:

Nebraska, California, Iowa, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Virginia, Utah, Montana, Wyoming, Pennsylvania, South Dakota & Nevada

Finding through legislative investigation that the Federal Reserve Act is in violation of constitutional prohibitions (therefore void) Roberts suggested that the State may:

1. Recall members of the State delegation to Congress to give an accounting of their stewardship,
2. Enact State statutes providing for enforcement of the Constitution of the United States with regard to the Federal Reserve System operating within the borders of the State,
3. Direct the State Attorney General to initiate charges of criminal syndicalism against officers and agents of the Federal Reserve System operating within the borders of the State,
4. Establish a State bank to increase the economic and fiscal autonomy of the State, and whatever other options the State may deem appropriate.

When the State, through legislative investigation, finds that the Federal Reserve and its hegemony of corporations constitute a criminal network operating against the interests of the people, Roberts said that “such profits, resources and property garnered by criminal activities of the Federal Reserve and its agents are forfeit and accrue to the State and her people”.
