

Many hours are devoted defusing gay lover fights, jealousy entanglement, and having to quell other lustful behavior of homosexuals.

In the prison environment I was always on the alert not to compromise my safety [because of] gay men who may have had AIDS when I had to help quell a fight between jealous lovers.

John McCain and I are in agreement and support of traditional marriage between a male and female; any other union or arrangement would be an oxymoron.

Jim Bradford

Master Chief, U. S. Navy (Retired)

Fayetteville, Ga.